

If you can prove that you had a valid foreign driver's license for 5 consecutive years immediately prior to your Aliyah, you are eligible to convert your driver's license without having to take any exams.

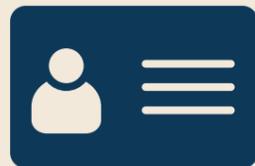

What You Will Need:

A

Documents of Identification

You need to bring your Teudat Zehut and Teudat Oleh.

B

Foreign Driver's License

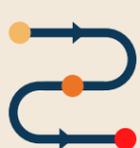

In addition to your foreign driver's license, you also need a copy (front and back) of it.

C

Proof of Experience

You need proof of possessing a foreign license for 5 consecutive years immediately prior to your Aliyah. This might be the issue date on your license.

The Process Step by Step:

1

Application

Apply online by filling out the form known as "Tofes Yarok". (The form is in Hebrew only) Find the form here: 🔗

2

Optician

Only specific opticians are licensed to perform the eye examination. Find a list here:  The optician will also take the picture for your future license. The eye exam costs around 50 NIS.

3

Misrad HaRishui (Ministry of Transportation)

Schedule an appointment with the ministry of transportation by clicking here:  Bring with you all the required documents which are mentioned above ("What you will need").

4

Pay the Fee

Your temporary license is NOT valid until you have paid. You can pay over the phone by dialling *5678, at the post office, or online.

Important Notes:

Glasses

When you go to the optician, don't forget to bring your glasses or contact lenses (if relevant).

Temporary License

The temporary license will be valid for 6 months. Within 2-3 months of issuing your temporary license you will be mailed your permanent driver's license.
